

THE CAPITAL MARKETS CONFERENCE

Camilleri Preziosi is once again organising THE CAPITAL MARKETS CONFERENCE, a half day conference to be held at the Corinthia Marina Hotel, St. Julian's, on 3 November 2017 between 14:00 and 18:00. Networking drinks will follow.

Presentations and panel discussions will consider the current state of the capital markets in Malta and, taking stock of the key points raised during the 2016 conference, will again focus on opportunities for the raising of capital and the implications of going public on the local Main or Prospects markets. The programme will also tackle the recent resurgence of the equity market and, with an eye to the future, blockchain and its appeal to, and potential impact on, capital markets.

Speakers and panellists will include members of the firm's Corporate & Finance practice group, leading stockbrokers and financial advisers, and other key exponents in the field.
